

The Canadian Resource Centre for Victims of Crime (CRCVC) is seeking a qualified, committed individual to join its Board of Directors.

The CRCVC is a national charitable organization that provides support and guidance to individual victims and their families in order to assist them in obtaining needed services and resources, and advances victims' rights by presenting the interests and perspectives of victims of crime to Government, at all levels. We also strive to foster heightened public awareness of victims' issues, conduct research in the field of victimology and promote exchanges between professionals at the local, provincial and national level.

About the Role:

As a Director, you will join a team of highly qualified, committed individuals with combined expertise and experience in a wide range of areas, including criminology, advocacy, education, training, law and business management. The Board meets quarterly and is responsible for the strategic and financial health of the organization. Learn more about us here.

CRCVC is currently recruiting a person with financial and accounting expertise to join our board.

This is a volunteer position.

Please send your expression of interest and a resume to board@crcvc.ca by May 24th 2026.
